

A Message about Flow Separation: Please plan to arrive for your trip at least 10 minutes early, or we cannot guarantee your spot. For all trips, we will form a line for walkups, and any spots that remain unfilled 5 minutes before departure will be released.

To board the boat, visitors are required to walk across a gangway and down several stairs. Children under the age of 13 must be accompanied by an adult and are required to wear a life vest while on the water. The boat is open to the elements, so visitors should expect various weather conditions and dress accordingly. Please keep in mind that this is a vintage and historic fireboat, so you must exercise caution at all times and be aware of your surroundings. This is a functional fireboat, and we may elect to spray water during any trip; as a result rubber soled shoes are recommended.

We reserve the right to close the exhibition and cancel trips at our discretion, including in the case of bad weather. Replacement passes will not be issued in the event of inclement weather or other unforeseen conditions.

Please check publicartfund.org or fireboat.org the night before your trip to be certain the boat will be going out.

Please limit the items you bring with you. Prohibited items and activities include animals (except for service animals), littering, smoking or vaping, controlled substances, third-party commercial activities, and weapons.

Visitors are invited to take photographs of the exhibition. The commercial use of photos or video taken during your visit is prohibited. By boarding the vessel, you grant us the irrevocable, transferable, perpetual right and license to publish, print, display, record, and use your image and likeness, and also the image and likeness of any people or articles that you bring with you, while at the exhibition, for any purpose, in any and all media now known or later devised.

Please obey all posted rules and safety instructions from staff. We reserve the right, at our sole discretion, to refuse admission, control occupancy, or eject any person whose conduct is deemed by staff to be disorderly or who fails to comply with these terms and conditions.

Public Art Fund, 14-18 NOW, and John J. Harvey are not responsible for lost or stolen personal items, and are not responsible for the actions of members of the public who board the boat. By boarding the boat, you indicate the following: you have read and will comply with all terms and conditions, and all directions and instructions given by crew members or other staff; you understand that there are inherent risks involved in being on the boat and you assume such risks; you are physically and medically able to ride on the boat; and you forever discharge Public Art Fund, 14-18 NOW, and John J. Harvey from all liability associated with the exhibition.

John J. Harvey is an uninspected vessel, not licensed by U.S. Coast Guard for the carriage of passengers for hire. All members of the public are welcome aboard as guests of her owners, free of charge.
